

Editorial

Rajarajeswari Dental College & Hospital has just celebrated its 24th College Day and 21st Graduation. These annual celebrations bring out the best of talents among the students. Togetherness is evident in the way they rehearse for the cultural, compete in sports, and perform on the stage. They surprised everyone by their multitalents on the stage and on the sports field. Our Cricket team has come as runner up in Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences Zonal Competition and qualified for the interzonal contest. Once in professional course major concentration is channeled toward studies. Many do not find time and energy to take part in extracurricular activities. This could be altered by encouraging professional course students to take part in cultural and sports activities. This will help us to create a “Sound mind in a sound body.”

Moreover games, sports, and cultural activities create an atmosphere of camaraderie and the inequality among the young minds disappear. Can anyone suggest a better way of dealing the menace of ragging than promoting these activities among students?

Congratulations to all who take part in sports and cultural activities.

Happy Reading!!!

N Edwin Devadoss
MDS FIMSA FDS RCPS (Glasgow)
Editor-in-Chief
Journal of Health Sciences and Research
Dean, RajaRajeswari Dental College and Hospital
Bengaluru, Karnataka, India