Academic curriculum forms one of the most important pillar for the development of medical education. Comprehensive treatments based on sound scientific knowledge forms the basis of excellent patient care.

We are extremely pleased to announce the start of Journal of Mahatma Gandhi University of Medical Sciences and Technology (JMGUMST) which is an official publication of Mahatma Gandhi University of Medical Sciences and Technology.

The journal will include all medical, dental and allied disciplines under the aegis of the university.

I wish the entire team all the very best for this new venture and hope this journal will bring academic and scientific glory to the university and its constituent colleges.
