A New Journal dedicated to Hypertension is Born

We, at Jaypee Brothers Medical Publishers (P) Ltd., proudly announce the birth of a new journal, aptly called the 'Hypertension Journal' (HTNJ). The journal is the first of its kind to be published in South Asia, solely dedicated to hypertension and associated disorders. As all of you know, hypertension is a major risk factor for premature morbidity and excessive mortality in the community. Untreated hypertension has a negative impact on the public health of our country. Every sector of our population is showing an escalating prevalence of hypertension. Due to the serious consequences of hypertension, the medical community should keep abreast of the scientific and therapeutic advances in the field. Thus, it is timely, appropriate and relevant that the 'Hypertension Journal' is developed.

We are fortunate that a global legend in the field of hypertension, Dr C Venkata S Ram, will serve as the Editor-in-Chief of the 'Hypertension Journal'. He is a renowned expert in hypertension recognized worldwide for his work in the field for more than three decades. His pioneering contributions have led to better understanding of the pathophysiology and therapy of hypertensive disorders. He will guide the path that the journal will take to set new standards in the science of hypertension. With the stellar board of editors and editorial consultants, the 'Hypertension Journal' will be a valuable resource to the medical community. We, at Jaypee Brothers Medical Publishers (P) Ltd., are excited about the new journal.
